BOARD OF GOVERNORS

The Board of Governors and its Executive Committee met June 6, 1975.

STUDENT HOUSING REGISTRY

The Board approved the Finance Committee's recommendation of a grant of $3,000 to the Students' Union in the 1975-76 fiscal year for the establishment of a housing registry. The goal of the registry, unlike its more passive predecessor, will be to actively solicit individuals with accommodation available for student rental by means of an in-depth advertising campaign. The grant for the housing registry is subject to Students' Council approval of that project.

EXPANDED DAY CARE FACILITIES

In view of growing concern expressed by academics, non-academics, students, and members of the community, Graeme Leadbeater, President of the Students' Union, asked the Board to consider its position on the question of expanded day care facilities. He also asked for a demonstration of support by the Board's indication of its willingness to provide the space for expanded facilities as well as its involvement in the planning stages of the project. A specific proposal is presently being prepared by the Students' Union and Community Day Care Centre. The Board proposed that the project be referred to the Campus Development Committee for serious consideration.

RECOMMENDATIONS REVIEWED

The recommendations from the Senate Task Force on the Status of Women were reviewed by the Board resulting in a request to the Administration for a preliminary report to be presented to the Board in September on the feasibility of implementing the following recommendations:

1. That a policy statement against sex discrimination be adopted and printed in the Faculty Handbook, the Manual of Administrative Procedures, the Administrative/Professional Officers' Regulations, and other such contractual and administrative manuals.
2. That instructions be issued to administrative officers of the University to investigate and bring forward proposals concerning more flexible and imaginative work patterns for both male and female staff including part-time and shared tenurable positions.

3. That sessional appointments which have renewed three times or more be considered for reclassification as permanent positions requiring longer contracts.

4. That a University-wide system of generous maternity benefits be established and funded through a permanent central contingency fund.

5. That The University of Alberta assume greater responsibility for expanded, subsidized day care facilities on the campus.

6. That a professional, external study be authorized into the status and employment patterns of non-academic women employees of the University with special reference to the personnel classification system.

NEW FACULTY ESTABLISHED

The Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower, A.E. Hohol, has approved a proposal for the establishment of faculty status for the Department of Extension effective November 1. The new Faculty of Extension will have as its first Dean Charles M. Lockwood who, prior to a recent appointment as director of the department, served as its acting director.

The significance of the change rests in its operational relationship to the rest of the University. Prior to the change, the Department of Extension has operated independently of the other faculties with the exception of a rather informal relationship based on the participation of academic staff in the instruction of Extension courses.

As a result of the change in status, Extension will have a Faculty Council with representation from other faculties, the Senate, the public in terms of a student body, and from within the Faculty of Extension. It is hoped that this change will bring about better integration of Extension with the rest of the University.

PROPOSAL FOR EXPANSION OF DENTISTRY

The Board approved in principle a proposal for expansion from the Faculty of Dentistry. Included in the proposal are changes in administrative structure; a new and larger building and expanded facilities; increased maximum enrolment in the undergraduate and graduate programs and in the School of Dental Hygiene; and the lengthening of the undergraduate degree program by one year.

General Faculties Council gave its approval to the academic aspects of the proposal at its meeting on March 31. The University Planning Committee arranged in January for presentation of information relative to the proposal to the Minister of Advanced Education at the Minister's request. The administration will now enter into negotiations with the Department of Advanced Education

GIFT OF PALEONTOLOGICAL COLLECTIONS

The Department of Geology has received notification that certain major oil companies in Calgary are prepared to offer their entire macro-paleontological research collections to the University. The principal donors are Imperial Oil and Shell Canada, while Panarctic, Gulf, Chevron, Mobil, Dome and J.C. Sproule and Associates have also offered their collections. The Board of Governors voted to accept this gift subject to the making of satisfactory legal arrangements, provision by the University of adequate space, and assessment by the University Planning Committee of implications to the capital budget ($427,000) and operating budget ($89,000).

The collections consist of all material collected by the donors over the past 40 years, particularly during the last 20 years. The source of the material lies in the areas of interest to the petroleum industry, past, present, and future in the areas of western Canada, the Yukon, and the Arctic Islands. The number of individual specimens is estimated to be in the order of 300,000. When brought together they will probably represent the largest and most comprehensive collection of western and northern Canadian paleontological material with the possible exception of that of the Geological Survey of Canada. The scientific value has been described by R.St.J. Lambert, Chairman of the Department of Geology, as "inestimable." Dr. Lambert also says that "it will certainly form a permanent base for research for the foreseeable future." In terms of the cost of field work and professional research, the replacement value has been estimated to be in the range of $10 million. In addition to the potential academic use that could be made of the collections, the donor companies intend that the amalgamated collections form a resource pool to which access will be available for all investigators. The value of the collection would steadily increase since promises of future collections have been included in the gift.

Conditions of acceptance put forth by the donors were simply that the collection be properly documented and that in lieu of credits for the donors, they receive copies of all reports based on the collection and that it remain intact and under strict curatorship.

One location that has been suggested is the old Power House which is both structurally sound enough to support the collection and could be modified in a suitable manner at comparatively low cost.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY INSTITUTE ESTABLISHED

With the assistance of a grant from the Federal Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce and with the approval of the Board of Governors, the Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce will administer a Management Advisory Institute (MAI). The purpose of the Institute will be to provide consultative and advisory services in a complementary capacity to those of private and public organizations in Alberta. By sub-contracting with private consulting firms or, where appropriate through direct contracting, the expertise of Business Administration and Commerce academic staff will be utilized. Organized, well co-ordinated and well directed multi-disciplinary resource teams such as those of the Institute would be more readily available to assist in developing solutions to management problems and establishing direction in the development of Alberta's economic base.

It is stressed by representatives of the Institute that MAI is designed to complement rather than compete with the consulting industry. Safeguards such as the representation of the Canadian Association of Management Consultants on the MAI Board of Directors and on the Executive have been provided to ensure that these potential conflicts are minimized and the interest of private firms protected from what could be construed as unfair competition.

DONALD B. SCOTT 1913 - 1975

Donald B. Scott, Professor of Physics and University Ombudsman, died June 11, 1975.

Dr. Scott graduated from the University of Toronto with a BA (Honors) in Mathematics and Physics in 1937 and proceeded to McGill University where he completed his PhD in Physics in 1940. Later that year he joined the staff of the Department of Physics at The University of Alberta, as a Sessional Lecturer.

When the war ended in 1945 he was able to initiate a research program in nuclear physics which provided thesis material for a steady stream of graduate students at the MSc level for the next decade. In 1953 he became involved in consulting activities at the University Hospital and with problems associated with the use of X-rays for medical purposes. This led to a joint appointment with the Dr. W.W. Cross Cancer Institute and promotion to Professor of Physics in 1954. In 1955 he returned to full-time service with the Department of Physics and became involved in the operation of the first electronic computing facility on campus (1957), the planning and construction of the Physical Sciences Centre (1956-1960), and the establishment of the nuclear research group in the Department of Physics (1957-1959).

Dr. Scott's association with computing activities became intensified when he was made Director of the computing centre in 1961 and Head of the new Department of Computing Science in 1964. Starting with a staff of six, the department was made up of more than twenty professorial staff when Dr. Scott resigned the chairmanship in 1971, proposing to return full-time to Physics. At this time, however, the decision had been made to establish the position of University Ombudsman. Dr. Scott accepted this position and held it until his death.

Dr. Scott believed that the teaching role is one of the most important and rewarding tasks of a university professor. His lectures were always well prepared and lucidly presented. He maintained a high standard of scholarship and was held in high esteem by his students. Both graduates and undergraduates regarded him as a man whom they could approach at any time with complete confidence in his integrity and sympathetic understanding. These qualities were of special value when he came to occupy the post of Ombudsman.

His interest in students extended to sports activities. He was a longtime member of the University Athletic Board and was Chairman of the Awards Committee of that board for 15 years. He faithfully attended the Color Night ceremonies and seldom missed any of the intercollegiate sporting events held on campus.

For some years Dr. Scott was active in the Association of the Academic Staff, serving as the first Chairman of the Academic Welfare Committee and as President of the Association. He was a prominent member of the group who worked for and established the Faculty Club, later serving as Chairman of the House Committee and President of the Club.

On the national scene Dr. Scott served on the Council of the Canadian Association of Physicists for two years and was President of that association's Medical and Biophysics Division in 1961-62.

CRICKET IS ALIVE AND WELL AND LIVING IN EDMONTON

Canada carried off a singular sporting triumph a few weeks ago, but you may be forgiven if you missed it altogether. A Canadian team in Toronto beat the Australian touring team at cricket.

Now in England, whence the Australian team was bound, a victory like that would rate front page headlines, for the Aussies are perhaps the best cricketers in the world and the English rarely beat them. They managed it only once last winter while touring Down Under, and that in the last game of the series when Australia's fast bowler, Lillee, wasn't playing. So, a Canadian team beating those Aussies was news indeed, but the newspaper editors didn't see it that way, feeling, no doubt correctly, that their readers would not consider cricket a Canadian game.

But it once was. Almost before those Australians knew which way round to hold the bat, Canadians were playing cricket. There are records of French Canadians playing it in Montreal in 1785 and, more significantly still, the very first international cricket match (and probably the very first time two countries opposed one another in a sporting event) was played between Canada and the United States of America in New York, September 24 and 25, 1844. And Canada won by 33 runs.

The first international tour undertaken by English cricketers was to Canada and the USA in 1859, to be followed by tours in 1868 and 1872. The international matches were all played in the east, but as the settlers came west, they brought cricket with them. There are records of it being played in the Red River Colony, now Manitoba, in 1864 and, according to Dorian Smith, Professor of Geology and Vice-President of the Edmonton and District Cricket League, it has been played in Edmonton certainly since 1897 when the Edmonton Cricket Club was formed and probably since long before that on a less organized basis.

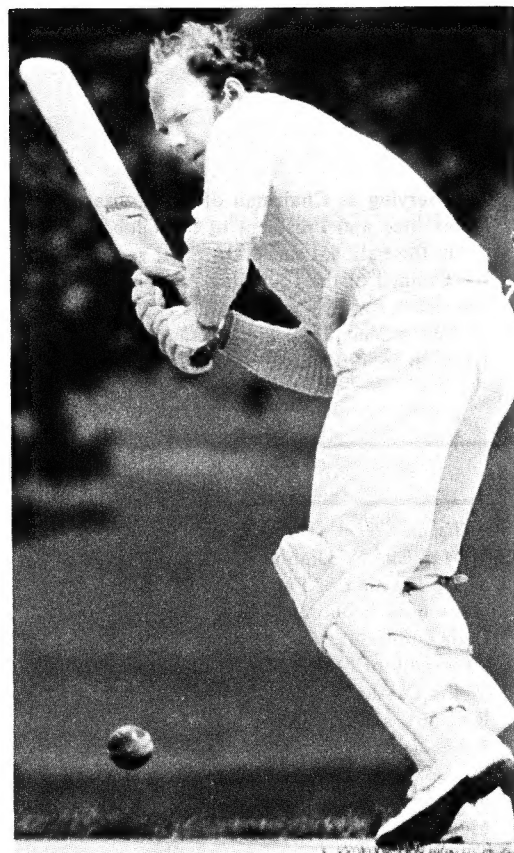

"Interest in cricket has waxed and waned here over the years," Dr. Smith told me. "It was very popular before the First World War, but the players went off to the front in 1914 and few of them returned to Alberta so interest slackened. It built up again, but then came the Second World War and equipment was difficult to come by and there was no one around to coach the youngsters so, once more, the fortunes of the club declined somewhat." However, Dr. Smith says that cricket in Edmonton is enjoying a renaissance and it is happening among the young.

Now there is no better way of appreciating a game than learning to play it as a child. One's own proficiency may not be great, but one knows the subtleties involved. "Just look at that!" exclaims a sportsman watching an expert play at hockey, football, tennis, golf . . . you name it. "Why, what did he do?" asks his companion who is unversed in the game. The sportsman shakes his head and shrugs, unable to explain the marvellous skill he has just seen demonstrated. Cricket is essentially a game that must be played before it can be watched with pleasure. To the casual spectator it seems a bore. It takes hours and hours to play a match, even days. An international match, called a "Test Match," can last five days. There are often long periods when nothing seems to happen at all, but to the erstwhile player every minute is fraught with tension and excitement. He knows how the bowler is trying to "think the batsman out," and can see just how the batsman is resisting every temptation to make him hit out and sacrifice his wicket. So cricket is a game best learned when young and the young of Edmonton are discovering its joys in growing numbers.

Dorian Smith is co-ordinator of the Edmonton Junior Cricket Program and spends nearly every evening between 4 and 6 p.m. coaching boys. "They can't get enough of it," he says. "No matter how long we play or how often, they're always begging for more. Four junior clubs have been formed this summer and so far only two boys have dropped out."

There was disappointment that the Australians hopped straight from their matches in B.C. to Ontario. Somehow the prairies just do not seem to suggest cricket to the authorities in Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, Brisbane, Adelaide etc., nor apparently to those of the Canadian Cricket Association headquartered in Toronto. Perhaps next time things will be different. The Edmonton Journal published a large picture of an Edmonton cricketer June 9 on the front page of the sports section together with a write up of the inter-city match between Edmonton and Calgary played in Victoria Park the weekend of June 7 and 8, which lasted 13 hours and ended in a draw. They also wrote up the two junior matches played the same weekend in Coronation Park when the Edmonton boys beat their Calgary counterparts. The radio station CFRN-FM Stereo 100 is beginning to take an interest and have declared that they will announce match results and encourage the growth of the game in the city.

"The boys are tremendously keen," beams Dr. Smith, to whom is due much of the credit for the junior teams' victories, "but we do need help in several areas. We need people who are willing to umpire or keep score; who will just give a little time to play with the boys and point out obvious faults or reinforce the rules; who will help transport boys to and from the grounds, or who will help keep equipment in repair or will donate small sums towards the purchase of it."

Cricket is a strong cementer of international relationships. India threw the sahibs out, but it still plays pretty good cricket. So does Pakistan. The West Indians are about as good as the Australians and matches between the two cause afficianados of all nations to drool with pleasure. It is played in Sri Lanka, in Tasmania, Fiji and Hong Kong, in Malaysia and Singapore, in South Africa, Rhodesia, Kenya, and New Zealand, in the USA (principally in Philadelphia and Los Angeles), in Holland and Denmark and yes, even in France. This summer England will host a sort of "World Cup."

The game offers youngsters in Canada, as in all the other nations, the chance to spend hours in the open air in pleasant companionship, developing skills which involve miracles of concentration and co-ordination of eye and muscle, and ideals of sportsmanship which have become synonymous with the very name "cricket."

Anyone who wishes to help in any way, or who would like their child to join a club, is asked to call Dr. Smith at 432-3955 or 435-2896. He'll be delighted to hear from you.

TEACHING IN FOREIGN UNIVERSITIES: ELIGIBILITY TERMS CHANGED

The Department of External Affairs has made changes to the "Terms of eligibility" governing assistance to Canadian professors who have been invited to teach in foreign universities. The changes have been made to clarify certain points over which some confusion has existed. The intention of the program is to afford assistance to professors invited to teach a university course or present a paper within the framework of a formal course. This will eliminate all those wishing assistance to participate in or present a paper at a symposium, conference, or other meeting, but, though never this clearly spelled out, this has in fact always been the policy. Please note also that only Canadian citizens are now eligible for assistance.

THE GRANTS

Non-taxable grants offered by the Department of External Affairs consist of travel expenses covering the cost of return economy air fare for university professors who are Canadian citizens and have been invited by a foreign university to teach for a specific period. Should this period last for a full academic year, an additional travel grant may be offered to cover the air fare of the spouse of the university professor and any dependent children. The maximum grant that may be offered a candidate is $2,000.

TERMS OF OFFER

These grants will be awarded on the basis of a competition. It should be noted that the program applies to all fields of knowledge. All applications will be examined by a selection committee which will meet three times a year. Deadlines for the submission of applications will be October 1, February 1, and May 1. The committee will not consider retroactive applications. Only complete dossiers will be submitted to the committee. Applicants should fill out the application form "Request for a travel grant" (reproduced on this page) and forward it with all the necessary papers to the Cultural Affairs Division, Department of External Affairs, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0G2.
